Work Package 3 – Curriculum on Disaster Awareness and Life-Saving Skills Development

The VET-READY consortium has successfully completed WP3 focused on developing a comprehensive Curriculum on Disaster Awareness and Life-Saving Skills for VET.
Through the creation of an innovative, inclusive, and flexible learning package, WP3 equips both educators and learners with practical competences that support safety, preparedness, and effective response in emergency situations.

RESULTS

The WP3 curriculum framework and module development guidelines are now available on the project website.
The WP3 materials are available in English, Spanish, Latvian, Turkish, Greek, Icelandic and Ukrainian on the project website and will soon be accessible through the Online Knowledge Hub.

Findings and Achievements

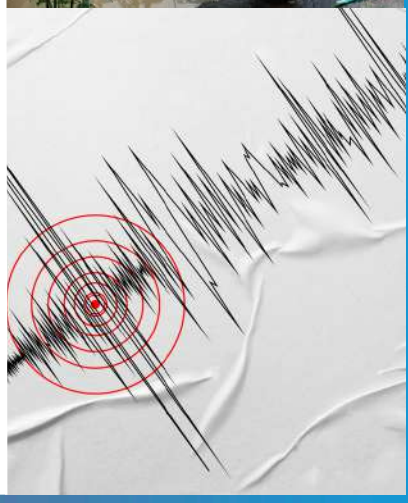

WP3 represents a major step toward integrating disaster preparedness into continuing education systems.

Key achievements include:

- Development of a comprehensive Disaster Awareness & Life-Saving Skills Curriculum
- Design of 30 training modules structured across five thematic units
- Creation of an inclusive pedagogical framework tailored to diverse learner groups
- Strengthening educators' capacity through problem-based and action-oriented teaching methods
- Integration of ESCO transversal skills and resilience competences
- Inclusion of real-life scenarios, critical thinking exercises, and practical preparedness guidance

These achievements support safer, more informed, and resilient communities across Europe.

Next Steps

All materials will soon be accessible through the VET-READY Online Knowledge Hub, where educators and learners will explore the curriculum through interactive learning experiences.

Partners are now working on Work Package 4, focusing on the development of the Online Knowledge Hub and interactive activities that will support engagement and the practical application of disaster preparedness skills.
